This diagram shows the assembly of the front of the train. A long black 1x10 Technic beam is being attached to the front of the existing structure. Red arrows indicate the connection points: two arrows point from the first two holes of the beam to the front of the black 1x4 Technic beam that is already attached to the main body. Another two arrows point from the last two holes of the beam to the front of the black 1x4 Technic beam that is attached to the right side of the main body. The main body of the train, consisting of a black 1x10 Technic beam with various yellow and black components on top, remains in the center.
